A New Era Begins with the Sixth Party Congress December 2013

Ona Zene Yeshitela,
Deputy Chair,
African People's Socialist Party

Uhuru! The African People's Socialist Party does not accept African poverty as a natural state of affairs. We do not accept poverty as an economic issue.

Our poverty is a political issue that is being fought by political means. The struggle for the liberation and unification of Africa and African people is the means by which we are struggling to end the poverty of African people on our mineral rich African continent and everywhere African people live.

Economics are the foundation of any society. It is the nature of the economy that defines the nature of the society itself. The way in which a society procures the necessities of life – food, clothing and shelter – tells us what kind of society we are dealing with.

The capitalist/colonial economic and political system that dominates the world today was born from the attack on Africa and the enslavement of African people in Africa and in the various places we were shipped to against our will. While it provided development and happiness for Europe, it resulted in impoverishment, underdevelopment and misery for most of the world.

Omali Yeshitela Chairman,
African People's Socialist Party
and African Socialist International

The African People's Socialist Party is determined to build another kind of society, one that benefits from the social labor of free people who also own the land and the means of producing on it collectively or socially.

Your contributions represent unity with a continuation of the history of our people and our Party's struggle for the liberation and unification of Africa and African people throughout the world so that we can build a society in which all people can live in peace and prosper from our labor.

Message from the Chair:

The Sixth Congress of the African People's Socialist Party provided the greatest possible example that the black liberation movement is on a positive trajectory

The Sixth Congress of the African People's Socialist Party provided the greatest possible example that the Black Liberation Movement is on a positive trajectory of recovery after being nearly immobilized for two generations following the brutal attack on our Revolution by the U.S. government in the 1960s that led to assassinations of leaders and mass imprisonment of hundreds of activists.

Participants in the Congress came from throughout the world. They included delegates from East, West and North Africa; from England and Sweden in Europe; from the Bahamas in the Caribbean; and from Canada and the U.S. in North America.

Unión del Barrio Mexican Liberation Organization

The Congress also enjoyed participation from a delegation from Union del Barrio, a Mexican national liberation movement. A video message of solidarity was sent from stateless Romani activists, showing deep unity with African Internationalism and detailing their historic experience of European terror and repression.

This Sixth Congress served to put the struggle of African people throughout the world back on center stage. Moreover, the Congress served to challenge the recent notion of Africans as perennial victims of our own ignorance and pathology.

The Political Report to the Congress, a document in circulation for nearly four months prior to the Congress and thoroughly discussed during the Congress, set the record straight by defining the success of Europe, America and the white world as stemming from and reliant on the theft of value – land, labor and human resources – from Africans and others who have been locked in poverty and oppression since the advent of capitalism at our expense.

But this was not a Congress dedicated to recounting past grievances. It was about building and consolidating the instrument and relationships to overturn this history of exploitation and oppression.

Of course, the instrument we are building and consolidating is the African People's Socialist Party! The relationships are those with all our friends and allies: the Mexican people and Union del Barrio, the Romani people, and all of you who offer solidarity and support for Africa and Africans through us, the African People's Socialist Party.

Surely we will win, and through us, you will also win!

Building Organization and Sustainable Economic Development!

In 2014, All African People's Development and Empowerment Project (AAPDEP) will be working vigorously to consolidate branches and shore up membership in Huntsville, Alabama, developing another base for agricultural work through the development of backyard garden collectives.

AAPDEP will continue to build on the educational work in Washington, DC, the agricultural work in Houston Texas, and other work in Sierra Leone. There is also a promise of seeing AAPDEP expand to Europe and the Caribbean! Look for our upcoming March organizer's conference and the comeback of "Arts for AAPDEP!"

NORM | APSP National Office of Recruitment and Membership Building for the Future

The APSP gained many new members during our historic 6th Party. In July 2014, we are holding a month-long cadre development intensive. As we move forward in 2014, the National Office of Recruitment and Membership will be focusing on recruiting students, prisoners and women. The Political Report to the Congress delivered by Chairman Omali Yeshitela will be the blueprint for all the Party's work in the struggle for the liberation of African people.

APSP Congress Resolves to Build on the Strategic Alliance with the Mexican Liberation Struggle

Unión del Barrio, a Mexican Liberation organization based in Southern California, participated in the 6th Party Congress of the African People's Socialist Party. As part of the Party Congress Resolutions, Unión del Barrio presented a commitment to build on the nearly 30-year history of fraternal unity between Unión del Barrio and the African People's Socialist Party. The Resolution expressed the strategic significance of two peoples' liberation bound together in the struggle to eradicate parasitic capitalism and build a socialist economy, with African and Mexican workers wielding political power based on the collective interest of our working class communities.

Unión del Barrio was represented by Ron Gochez, Political Secretary of the Los Angeles Local Committee, and Benjamin Prado, Under Secretary and Member of the Central Committee, who gave a magnificent presentation on the history of the struggle for Mexican Liberation as well as delivered a message of Solidarity to the Party Congress.

The specific purpose of this strategic alliance is to build both our organizational and party presence in areas where one of our organizations is not present. Unión del Barrio's participation was marked by a commitment to join the African Liberation struggle and jointly overturn the colonial oppression suffered by both our peoples.

African Socialist International (ASI) Growing Throughout the World!

Luwezi Kinshasa, Secretary General of the African Socialist International, gave a powerful presentation on the African Nation at the Sixth Party Congress.

This New Year is a very promising one, with the African Socialist International having a foot in East Africa, West Africa, Europe, North America and the Caribbean.

Representatives of ASI from Sierra Leone, Sweden, Egypt, Kenya, Bahamas and United Kingdom participated in the 6th Party Congress, resolving to bring African Internationalism to expand the ASI across the globe.
